Instructions for Authors

Authors of scholarly articles of moderate length on such topics as manuscripts, printed books, bindings, illustrations, typography, history of publishing, history of libraries, and bibliophily, all in so far as, in a general sense, they concern Europe, are invited to submit their contribution in a form ready for publication and in the final state intended.

Decisions as to the acceptability of submitted articles rest with the Editor-in-Chief and the Editorial Board. Quaerendo is an English-language publication. Spelling should be consistent throughout. All articles will be accompanied by an abstract not exceeding 150 words and 2-6 keywords (translated where appropriate), which the authors are requested to provide.

The Managing Editors reserve the right to adapt texts where necessary in order to preserve uniformity of presentation. Contributors will be sent first proofs of their articles, but not as a rule revised proofs. Unfortunately it is not possible to pay a fee for contributions, but authors of articles will receive a copy of the issue in which their article has appeared (in the case of a multi-authored contribution, only the first-named author will receive a free copy of the issue).

Authors are requested to consult the Quaerendo style sheet at brill.com/qua.
